Broughton, who has been acting as secretary of the organization since its inception, presented his resignation, which was accepted, and T. Clay Moore, formerly assistant secretary, was elected to his place. Miss Emma Joe Cockrill was elected as assistant secretary. ### BRENTWOOD NOTES.

The Magnolia Sewing Circle met last Monday, April 8, at the home of Mrs. Sol. Hunt, on Elm Lane. The weather was so bad that only a few of the members attended, but those who were there had a delightful time. Lots of work was done. A three-course menu was served. Those present were Mesdames G. W. Voornies, Green Hunt, Huston Cole, R. E. Johnson, Jr., and Sol Hunt. The Circle adjourned to meet at the home of Mrs. J. C. Crawley, Monday, April 15, at Locust Lawn, at which place Mrs. James Bond, of Nashville, will address the club.

At Brook's Chapel Sunday School last Sunday there was a lively contest between the girls and boys as to which would have the banner. It is the custom in this Sunday school to have a banner stand at the head of the class that raises the largest amount of money. The banner has stood at the head of the girl's class for some time. Last Sunday the boys made up their minds that they would get the banner and so raised the largest amount of money.

Prince Herrman gave a very fine show at Brook's Chapel M. E. Church last Saturday night, at which he astonished his audience with his wonderful performances. He will show again Saturday night, April 20, 1907, at which time it is expected there will be a crowded house.

Rev. James D. Fennell visited his sister, of Lewisburg, Tenn., last Sunday.

Revs. Mark Owens and J. O. Gentry preached at Brook's Chapel Sunday night.

The young girls and boys gave a very enjoyable party last Wednesday night at the home of Mrs. Thomas Walker. A good many of the parents were there.

Different kinds of plays were indulged in until a very late hour, when the hostess invited the young folks in to the dining room and served them with cream and cake.

"YOU."

Yesterday all the world was gay,
Roses and violets bloomed by the way.
The tiny bluebells drank the dew,
The birds sang sweetly in the trees;
The nature was bright—
I walked with you.

To-day the world seems dark and drear,
No roses and violets bloom by the way;
The tiny bluebells are asleep,
The little birds have ceased to sing,
All nature has lost its brightness to me;
I listen for you, but all in vain—
I walk alone.

—Lady Emma Louise Phillips.

TENNESSEE INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL.

Ten young men of this school have become subscribers for the Globe. Mr. Payton, their very efficient superintendent, thinks that this excellent piece of literature placed in their reach will be of much aid in keeping their minds occupied.

Dr. E. W. S. Hammond, of Walden University, and Rev. N. Smith will administer the Lord's Supper to the boys next Sunday.

Every Sunday afternoon devotional exercises are conducted by Mr. William Lusk, who extends an invitation to all.

DR. McMILLAN GOES TO WASHINGTON.

The appointment of Dr. J. A. McMILLAN, of this city, as one of the attending physicians in the Freedman's Hospital at Washington, D. C., was indeed an honor bestowed upon a worthy young practitioner. Dr. McMILLAN left Wednesday night, April 10, to begin his new work. Just the nature of the appointment has not been learned in detail, but it is stated by one of Dr. McMILLAN's intimate friends that the doctor does not contemplate remaining in the hospital longer than eight or twelve months. His idea for accepting this was to give him a better idea of surgical work, such as can only be secured in a prominent hospital. He has been practicing in this city since he finished from the Meharry Medical College with the class of 1903 and has indeed become a favorite not only in society but with the profession. Mrs. McMILLAN will remain in the city as she is matron of the model home out at Walden. The many friends of the doctor will regret his departure but will join in wishes for his success. It is not known at this writing just what his future plans are.
